

Youth Orchestras of Central Virginia Autumn Concert

The Youth Orchestras of Central Virginia opens our 35th season with the Evans Orchestra performing an exciting program that includes Beethoven's Symphony 7 (2nd mvt) Washburn's Scottish Fantasy and Procession of the Sadar by Ippolitov-Ivanov.

To the delight of brass lovers, the Youth Symphony will open with Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man. The spotlight will then move to three very special soloists. VCU faculty members, Susanna Klein and Tabatha Easley will join our very own Angela Kelly and the Youth Symphony in performing Bach's 4th Brandenburg Concerto. The evening will end with Dvorak's Bohemian folk inspired Symphony No. 8 in G-major.

Please join us for a fabulous program and help celebrate our 35th year.

When: Thursday, November 3 7:00pm

Where: MLK Performing Arts Center

Tickets: $10 adults/18 and under -free

-Available at the door before the performance.

